

 <h2 style="text-align: center;">Listen to Conversation about telling the Personal information</h2>

Today we are re going to meet another student from the University of Adelaide. Listen for some of the words she uses. This Video will help you practice some questions: Such as: What's your name? How old are you? What 's your Address? What is your ♦ telephone?

<youtube>8CltR3zjSc4&feature=related&rel=0&hl=en&fs=1 &rel=0&showinfo=0&lin k=0&showsearch=0{/youtube}   about making friends
and meeting different people.

JASMINE: Hi, my name's
Jasmine.

And could you spell that for me?

J-A-S-M-I-N-E.

Do
you study here at university?

Yes, I do.

What do you study?
<br
medicine?

This is my first year here so it's just been nine weeks, into week nine.<br
just arrived in Adelaide?

Yeah, that's right.

And do you enjoy it here?<br experience, it's a good way. A new environment where you can intermingle with different<br years, for the whole period of my course.

So you live in university housing with other students?

Yes, it's a college.

What's the address there?
<br
the college?

We have quite a number of buildings so it's good because if you stay in this building you create a rapport,jasmine

camaraderie between the people that stay in the same floor, the same building and then we have like inter-building <br
good.

That's the thing I like about Adelaide, you know, surrounded by all your parklands. That's one of the interesting things that I have liked about Adelaide.<br

have studied English before,

but the type of English that you use is totally different,
you know, the clich ♦ Australian version of G'day, you know, sort of thing, laid back.

So you live and learn. You start saying things like 'heaps good,' instead of 'very good'
<br
life

experience

 <table border="0" align="left"> <tr> <td></td> </tr> </table> Here experience is used as a verb.

It ♦s when something happens to you or you feel something.

I
experience pain.

Experience can also be used as a noun.

It means
knowledge or skill as a result of doing something.

Going to university was a good
experience.

intermingle

mix together

To mingle means to mix,
and the prefix inter- means together, among, or between.

The prefix inter- is today's
spotlight.

quite a number of buildings

many buildings
<br
rapport with the people I work with.

 audio - pronunciation
<br
work.

inter-building competitions

competitions between the people living

in different buildings
The prefix inter- is today's spotlight.
cliché
If something is cliché, it is a typical way of saying something.
Australians love to say 'g'day' instead of hello.
g'day
G'day is short for good day.
Australians use it when they are saying hello.
It's a very informal but common greeting.
heaps good
Heaps good is another slang Australian expression.
Jasmine has noticed that people say things like heaps good, instead of very good.
blend into
To blend into means to mix into.
If you blend into another culture, you become part of it, so people don't notice you are from somewhere else.
spotlight
inter-
The prefix inter- means together, among, or between. It can be added to both nouns and verbs.
Rivalries between cities are called intercity rivalries.
The English football league is an intercity competition.
To connect things together is to interconnect.
The railway and the bus routes interconnect at this station.
To interchange is to make two things change places.
The student interchange between Australia and Japan is very successful.
To intermingle is to mix together:
A new environment where you can intermingle with different people, it's good.
Inter-building competitions are competitions between the people living in different buildings:
We have quite a number of buildings so it's good because if you stay in this building you create a rapport, camaraderie between the people that stay in the same floor, the same building and then we have like inter-building competitions, like we have friendly debates or basketball competitions and all that stuff, so it's good.
more information: inter- prefix
Watch out for the word inter, which is pronounced differently and means to bury in a grave.
Where are you going to inter the body?