1. Example 1 about Advantage of living in big city

Living in the city has 3 advantages.

First, there are lots of entertainments in the city. A large number of cinemas, theaters, bars, restaurants are open very late in the evening.

Second, living in the city gives a person more opportunities for jobs. Newly graduated students can find good jobs with fairly high salary because many big companies, international organizations are located in the city.

Last, people who live in the city benefit good education offered by famous universities and institutes. Besides, living in the city always keeps people well-informed and updated so that city-dwellers have better background than those in the countryside.

In short, living in the city is great fun. However, we have to study and work hard or we will be left behind.

2. Example 2 about Advantage of living in big city

Big city is where you can see many vehicles, many skyscrapers, many people with a hurry pace of life. That place can fascinate us very much due to its light and luxury. Nowadays, more and more people want to live there because they see many advantages. Indeed, in a big city, people can have the best chances to work as well as can enjoy the best service and entertainment.

In a big city, people can take the chances to study and work best. There are many good Universities for you to choose in a big city. There you can express your ability to study what you like. Moreover, when you graduate, you also find it easier to find chances to get a good job with good salary, that is quite difficult in small cities or countrysides; because there concentrates many big companies and groups. Hence, many graduate students choose big cities to live and work. In short, it is where you can take advantages for yourself.

In addition, in a big city you can enjoy the best service and entertainment. Because there are many rich people here, they can invest much money to get the best for them. Lives in a big city are quite luxurious but you don't have to be worried when you are sick or suffer a disease because there you can find good doctors for you, as long as you have much money. What's more, in a big city you can enjoy new entertainment such as new games or luxury games.

Many people can argue that living in a big city makes them tired with noise and dash. They like the slow pace of life in a countryside. But I think that you can live there for a long time because the young always like to enjoy new things and want to have much money, which is very difficult to do in a countryside. However, when you get older, especially when you retire, a countryside will be the best choice to live.

In summary, living in a big city has many advantages. However, you have to try your best to overcome all difficulties such as hard competition in workplace or polluted environment. you should not complain when you face up to disadvantages of it.
